

2
AN ANSWER
VNTHO THE COMPLAINT

OF
R. CANT.

That he is an athean, Ievv, vilain, traitour, in Rabbi David farars disputation:
at Amsteldam.

1609.

To the King.

AN ANSWER
TO THE COMPLAINT

OF THE
CLERGY

OF THE
DIOCESE OF
DORSET

C

S V B T I L E

levv, my Liege
Lord, babtized,
a child & brought v p in our Christian universities, studied maliciously
to overthrow the Gospell &

in six poinctes he had caught infinite milliones of ours by our notes in Athean vi-lanie of judaisme vvith him. I printed a purgation of al our Bishops: that in allo-vvance of my book shew vng vvhath concent God gaue to scripture, vvher I dis-comfired his side from those six squarels, revoking the errours, they are no more in athean vilanie of judaisme vvith him.
The jevv sayth none other could haue cleared our Gospel R. cant. being honored vvith a copy bestovved termes vntolera-ble, j complaint to your LL. and he to the LL. of Amsteldam: that j teach him how the jevv had caught in Athean vilanie of judaisme: & vvil not be cleared. An other complaint of his Libelling against the Scottish mist, your vvifdome vvill bid Rich: C. surcease. The time vvvas vvhen the k. fvvare full often that I should haue vvhat I vvold for Quenching Sinons fy-

re. vvher the Kinges Bench hath condemned, he may not plead scandalum: Besides these be matters of flat Atheisme. I vvrot a book to the Lerved nobilitie, amending, errours of our translation in the Bible, & crede, & of successor. that he brét. I might as Lavv fully haue set croydon on a fyre:
an other vvork, & an other, & an other, & an other allowved by D. vvh. & after his death, by the K. he Brent. & at this hour he imprisoneth about a thousand copies of a commentarie vpon Daniel. Bargulus Illy-ricus might as Lavv fully. I humbly require justice against him,

Your maiesties most
humble subiect,

Hugh Broughton.

bid
en
ue
fy-
m-des
rot
ng,
&
ght
er:
, &
his
he
fa
lly
ui-

n.